

Following, in unofficial translation, is the text of an article yesterday in the Soviet Communist organ Pravda, as provided by Moscow's delegation to the United Nations and as received in London by Reuters from the Soviet news agency Tass:

The events in Hungary, where the counter revolution succeeded in going into action to attack Socialist achievements and the Peoples Democratic order, have evoked a deep response in the minds and hearts of all people who hold the interests of socialism dear. In all the countries of the Socialist camp the intrigues of reaction have been unanimously condemned. The speeches of the leaders of the Communist parties of France, Italy and other countries have shown the unanimity of views in the ranks of the world Communist movement on the question of the events in Hungary. The Communist parties of capitalist countries are manfully fighting against the debauch of reaction.

Events in Hungary show that the reaction for its anti-popular purposes tried to exploit the accumulated grievances of the working masses who were justly demanding an improvement in the leadership.

and he encouraged the active resistance of the counter revolutionaries and remained in touch with them.

Not encountering with determined resistance on the part of Imre Nagy's Government, the counter revolutionaries got hold of arms, created armed gangs which then received aid from the imperialist states, and dictated the conditions to Imre Government.

Nagy 'Had No Choice'
Imre Nagy's practical policy was to keep the country neutral. He was not a follower of the Soviet line. He was a realist. He was a statesman. He was a patriot. He was a hero.

Soviet P. Branch; Calls Talks

French Socialists disagreed themselves and again showed that they are the most faithful servants of the circles that try, at any price, to maintain the old colonial system of the world. It is not only the old colonial system that is being destroyed, but also the old imperialist system of the world.

With Hospital Emblem — Wonderful Heritage

New York has inherited the finest hospital system in the world. It is not only the finest hospital system in the world, but also the finest hospital system in the world.

Part of our legacy is in the development of new vaccines and cures for malaria, typhoid, tuberculosis and diphtheria. Another part includes the development of antibiotics, radioactive medicines, new kinds of surgery and a more thorough knowledge of medicine.
